Joe McCullough - 1978 Lincoln Mark V

Joe McCullough - 1978 Lincoln Mark V Continental

My Dad purchased this 1978 Lincoln Mark 5 from a gentleman who had just moved to Wenatchee from Alaska in 1979.

He had come to our sales lot looking for a mobile home and saw that Dad had a Mark already but Dad was always interested in Lincolns.

I went with Dad to the man's home that evening and found the car all wrapped up in his garage.

He lifted the cover off of the back bumper and before he could go any farther, Dad said he would take it.

He really loved Lincolns and enjoyed driving them.

The '78 was the last year of the 460 cubic engine. Dad enjoyed that part too. No wonder the whole family has a lead foot.

One year for Father's Day, Myra and I gave him a set of tires and the chrome spoke wheels which are still on it now.

It's been repainted once, but other than those two things it is original.

We enjoy driving it on cruises as it kind of floats along like a big boat.

We are looking forward to using it this summer.
